Filley's Men Capture the Eleventh District Convention.

Charles F. Wennecker and Clark H. Sampson Elected Delegates to Minneapolis.

THE CONVENTION REFUSES TO INSTRUCT THEM FOR PRESIDENT HARRISON.

The Course of Collector Wennecker Indorsed in an Indirect Way—Frank Obar, the Silk Stocking Candidate, Only Gets Eighteen Votes—Filley's Friends Get Even for "De Ole Man's" Exclusion From the State Convention.

The Eleventh District Republican Convention for the purpose of nominating district delegates to the National Convention was opened at 11:30 o'clock to-day in Social Turner Hall, Thirteenth and Monroe streets. The time fixed for the convention was 10 o'clock, but the delegates were very slow in arriving and disposed to linger in the saloon down stairs, where the candidates and their friends indulged in some tall button-holing. The impression of the delegates first on the ground was that Internal Revenue collector Charles F. Wennecker and C. H. Sampson would win hands down. The silks present did not exactly like this arrangement and on their arrival they started a boom for Frank Obar of the Twenty-eighth Ward. The argument was used that harmony could not be fully secured if the Filleyite wing was allowed to take both of the honors. Mr. Sampson, who was classed as a Filleyite and who has been so considered by the silks, arrived about half past 10 o'clock wearing a finely polished silk tie. He shook hands with everybody and wanted it understood that he was neither a silk nor bloodhound, but a pronounced Republican, who believed in a united party instead of one split up in factions.

COLLECTOR WENNECKER ARRIVES. Internal Revenue Collector Wennecker came next and he tried to break Mr. Sampson's record as a hand-shaker. "What am I here for?" he said. "Why, I live up here and just dropped down to see my friends. Am I a candidate? Well, if they want to send me to Minneapolis as a delegate I will go and accept as an honor and a privilege."

Ex-Chairman A. J. Davis of the Silk Committee looked up next and conversed with Recorder of Deeds W. A. Hobbs and Charles H. Smith, who is related to Mr. R. C. Kerns as confidential secretary.

Mr. Smith was congratulated by the silk stocking delegates over Mr. Kerns' record as a hand-shaker. "What am I here for?" he said. "Why, I live up here and just dropped down to see my friends. Am I a candidate? Well, if they want to send me to Minneapolis as a delegate I will go and accept as an honor and a privilege."

THE TEMPORARY ORGANIZATION. The Eleventh District is composed of the Fourth, Sixth, Eighth, Tenth, Twelfth, Fourteenth, Sixteenth, Eighteenth, and Twentieth wards. All but one precinct of the Twenty-fourth, Twenty-sixth and Twenty-eighth wards. The call showed that about three-quarters of the delegates were present in person and the absentees sent proxies. Chairman Meyer made a speech for the Congressional Committee and called for the nomination of delegates to the National convention until a couple of months after the National convention.

MEYER CREATES A RIFLE. Henry C. Meyer, who sat next to Collector Wennecker, at this stage of the proceedings next got the floor and created a ripple by moving that all proxies be thrown out. "It's about time," he shouted, "that this business of buying and selling proxies be stopped. It's not right that men with money can buy proxies and defeat the will of the people. We've had too much of this thing and it ought to be sat down on right in this convention."

THE CREDENTIAL COMMITTEE WAS THEN ANNOUNCED AS FOLLOWS: Fourth—Charles F. Bergesch. Sixth—W. W. Mehlman. Eighth—Moritz Scherer. Tenth—W. A. Hobbs. Twelfth—C. A. Gitchell. Fourteenth—H. C. Schenck. Sixteenth—H. C. Schenck. Eighteenth—Henry Reinhardt. Twentieth—Henry Reinhardt. Twenty-second—Henry Reinhardt. Twenty-fourth—Henry Reinhardt. Twenty-sixth—Henry Reinhardt. Twenty-eighth—John S. Strass.

At 12:30 a recess was taken for an hour.

THE COMMITTEE ON RESOLUTIONS held a lively meeting. L. W. Murray was the chairman and School Director Bus secretary. The discussion was precipitated by a motion to instruct the delegates to vote for Harrison. By a vote of 9 to 3 this motion was defeated, but another motion was carried indorsing the present national administration.

HE TOLD ALL.

Before His Death in St. Louis J. B. Cowan Confessed to Arson.

Startling Revelations Made by a Prominent Merchant of Dallas, Tex.

THE RECENT BIG FIRE AT THAT PLACE WAS OF INCEPDIARY ORIGIN.

Cowan Came to St. Louis to Consult a Specialist on Consumption and Was Met at the Depot by One of Furlong's Detectives and Kept Under Constant Surveillance—His Death at 2327 Market Street—Prospect of More Startling Developments in the Case.

At 3:30 o'clock last Friday afternoon J. B. Cowan of Dallas, Tex., died at No. 2327 Market street, in this city, and before his death he made a startling confession stating that he had been guilty of burning his place of business in Dallas, Tex., on July 25 last, for the purpose of collecting the insurance thereon. The circumstances surrounding his death, the remarkable story which promises to be developed through his confession and the criminal features now said to be on the verge of development in the case, make it altogether one of the strangest that has come to light in many days, and promise further disclosures both in Dallas and St. Louis which are now causing intense excitement in anticipation of their possible results.

MEET BY A DETECTIVE. When Cowan, dying of consumption, reached St. Louis from San Antonio, Tex., only last Tuesday evening for the purpose of being treated by a St. Louis specialist in pulmonary disease, he was met at the Union Depot by a detective from the Furlong Secret Service Agency of this city, who accompanied him to No. 2327 Market street and remained there with him day and night. The dying man had been accompanied by his wife and child and these two, after his death, went to the residence of Mr. Thomas Furlong, chief of that bureau, where they remained until the body was ready for shipment to Dallas. The detective on duty at the Market street house, where Cowan had taken rooms, was kept by a Mrs. Peterson, still remained there with the corpse. Cowan, as stated, died on Friday afternoon last. Within half an hour after his death his body was taken down to the undertaking establishment of J. P. Murrell & Sons at Fourteenth and Market streets, there embalmed, and on Saturday evening it was shipped to Dallas. The remains were accompanied by the widow and child of the deceased, and by an officer from the Furlong Secret Service Bureau. They arrived in Dallas on Sunday last and were buried yesterday. It was at that time the Furlong Secret Service confession became public. The deceased had been one of the most prominent business men in Dallas, engaged in the wholesale liquor trade. His alleged confession, that he was guilty of burning down his place of business in Dallas, Tex., for the purpose of collecting the insurance thereon, is a most remarkable case in the line of arson that has ever been successfully proved to light.

For two months or before his death J. B. Cowan had been under the constant surveillance of a detective. It is stated that the proofs of his guilt were conclusively known some months ago, and at the only reason he was not arrested is because he was known to be dying of consumption as fast as a man could die. About four weeks ago, it is claimed, Cowan made a confession of his guilt, said to implicate other parties also, and since that time the Furlong agency has been at work on the case. It is likely that the next few days may develop some of the points of making arrests and beginning criminal prosecution against other parties.

It appears that on July 25, 1891, the wholesale liquor store in Dallas, in which Cowan had been a partner was destroyed by fire. The stock was at once put in to the insurance companies by Cowan. For some reason the insurance companies had cause to suspect the fire was the work of an incendiary, and they refused to pay insurance. They want further than that the alleged matter in the hands of the Furlong Secret Service Bureau in St. Louis for the purpose of obtaining proof of fraud upon which they refused to pay insurance. About that time it is stated, Cowan disappeared from Dallas, and the work of the detective bureau was started. He was finally found, Can being found at Dallas, N. M., where he had taken refuge. He was suffering from consumption, and nothing was to be done for him but to keep him over him. From Dallas Cowan went to San Antonio, Tex., where he remained for some weeks growing weaker and weaker from his dread disease. Ten days ago he resolved to make a last effort to struggle for life by going to St. Louis for treatment, and did as stated. In the meantime his confession had been made in San Antonio, and it was at once placed in the hands of the Furlong Secret Service Bureau in the possession of the insurance companies. The facts as now known about the Cowan case, and the startling confession now said to be on the verge of development in the case, make it altogether one of the strangest that has come to light in many days, and promise further disclosures both in Dallas and St. Louis which are now causing intense excitement in anticipation of their possible results.

Cotton Planting Delayed. MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 8.—Cotton planting has been delayed by incessant rains in the hill lands, and the high waters of the Mississippi River and its tributaries. Much corn, too, has been drowned out by the overflow. It is yet a matter of great doubt if the acreage planted in cotton will show the decrease anticipated and which has been so forcibly advocated by resolutions of conventions held throughout the South.

To Soften Water. Among the various methods which have been proposed for softening water the degree of softness requisite to its use for industrial purposes are two which have the indorsement of M. Labrowski, the eminent chemist, one of which involves purely chemical reactions, and the other, which is more practically available, introducing for the purpose an ingenious application of electricity. In this latter process hydrated oxide of lead is placed in a filter press which is traversed by the water to be purified, and this produces an effluent showing only one or, at most, two degrees of hardness—by this means all the carbonates, sulphates and chlorides being precipitated. In order, however, to carry on this process economically, it is necessary that the hydrated oxide of lead be produced at a cheap rate, and to accomplish this a method has been successfully devised by M. Villon, it is claimed.

PRESIDENT BARTHOLOMEW'S EXPERTS.

Director Bosley One of the Men to Pass on the Elevator Question. President Richard Bartholomew of the School Board appointed E. M. Bosley, ex-member of the Board as a mechanical expert, and William Wedeck, President of the Interstate Electrical company, as an electrical expert, in accordance with a resolution of the board, instructing the president to select two experts to examine the proposed steam equipment, the merits of electric and hydraulic elevators, and the advantages of an isolated plant located in the new Public Library building instead of a connection with the Laclede plant. This is the elevator contract which was not given to the lowest bidder, but to a firm who asked several thousand dollars more. The electric elevators, which were selected as the most economical, whereas the elevators of the lowest bidder have an established reputation. Accusations were made that money was used in connection with the latter and this is what leads to the appointment of experts to pass upon the elevators. Mr. Bosley, it will be remembered, is the former representative in the board from the Twelfth district, composed of the Nineteenth and Twenty-first wards. His selection has occasioned considerable comment.

AGAINST ANDREWS.

Mrs. Sherman Williamson Blames Him for Her Husband's Death.

ACCORDING TO HER ANDREWS' CLAIM OF SELF-DEFENSE IS UNFOUNDED.

Williamson Had Nothing in His Hands When Shot—It Was After He Was Wounded That He Picked Up a Hatchet—The Woman Put a New Phase on the Shooting.

The evidence taken by the Coroner in the inquest yesterday on Sherman Williamson, the hostler who was shot Saturday night by Ed Andrews at Fisher's stable on Olive street, will be submitted to the Assistant Prosecuting Attorney of the Court of Criminal Correction to-morrow, and the case will be taken up by the grand jury. The case will be held in the holdover of the Central Police Station. Mrs. Williamson takes her incarceration very much to heart and seemed to be quite a different woman this morning from the one who was at the inquest yesterday. She feels her disgrace terribly, and admits that she herself is in a great measure to blame for the verdict of the Coroner's jury. Every one at the inquest, except Andrews, seemed to be her enemy, and as the damaging story of the Orthmans was against her and Andrews jointly she had no one else to look to for sympathy and advice, and that was how she came to speak to Andrews, who had always been a friend to both her husband and herself. "It is not so," said Mrs. Williamson this morning, "that Andrews came to see me without the knowledge of my husband. We lived at Mr. Orthman's hardly a month and it was during the last days of that time that Andrews lived with us. He boarded with us and ate supper with my husband and myself every evening. Mrs. Orthman told a lot of lies on me. I was never in the room when Andrews was in bed. He came to the house about 8 o'clock in the morning and I cooked his breakfast for him. Then he went to bed and slept until 4 or 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Before he went to work in the evening my husband returned and we all three ate supper together."

Mrs. Williamson admitted that all three lived in one room, but claimed that she also had the use of a hallway which she had during the day. She used it as a sort of sitting room, kitchen, reception room and everything, while Andrews was asleep. He occupied the same room during the day that she and her husband occupied at night. This to save expense. Her husband's salary was only $5 a month, which was not enough to support them unless they kept boarders. In regard to Mrs. Orthman, she knew very little except that she was a very meddlesome woman, and was always quarreling with her husband. Once she struck him with a stick and nearly broke his arm, and they were fighting like cats and dogs nearly all the time. "I don't know anything very bad against her except her quarrelsome and meddlesome disposition," said Mrs. Williamson. "Once she opened the folding door between her room and another room while I was gone, but found my husband there to her surprise. Then she made the excuse that she wanted to tell him of the shooting with Andrews, and she told him a lot of stuff about us which there wasn't a word of truth in. My husband told me all about it, and we got out of the house as soon as we could."

In regard to the shooting Mrs. Williamson said that the trouble between her husband and Andrews grew out of the disappearance of an umbrella from the stable which she worked, and not from any jealousy which her husband had, as has been stated. "About two weeks ago my husband found an umbrella in a carriage at the stable," said the prisoner. "and told the foreman, of it. Mr. Fodde told him that if no one inquired for it within a week or ten days he would have it, and one day last week he brought the umbrella home. Andrews heard of it, and when Mr. Fisher, the proprietor, complained of having lost an umbrella he told him that my husband had stolen it. Mrs. Fisher came and got the umbrella last Saturday morning, and that same morning my husband and Andrews had a quarrel at the stable, and so far as I know that was the first quarrel they ever had, and it had nothing whatever to do with the umbrella. My husband told me that same day that Andrews drew his pistol on him and was going to shoot him that morning. It was last Saturday, too, that we broke up housekeeping and he and Andrews went to work in a boarding-house. I was to call at the stable Saturday night and we were to talk over our plans together. I cooked supper Saturday night for thirty-five people and was very tired and thought that I would not go to the barn, but as my husband expected me I decided to go. We went to the stable and sat down on a couple of chairs just outside the harness room, and that nobody should overhear us my husband and Andrews went to the room door. Andrews was inside and opened the door again. Mr. Williamson shut it again and Andrews opened it a second time. Then my husband opened it once more and rushed into the room. I had hold of his coat and tried to hold him back, but he pulled away from me. I went into the harness-room and Andrews followed me. I don't know whether my husband was going to strike him or not, but he didn't say anything and made no motion as if he was going to draw a knife or pistol or anything else. Andrews had plenty of time to get away and didn't have to shoot him. It was after this that my husband ran out and got a hatchet. He then then bleeding from the wound in his breast, and had already said that he was shot. He came back where I was, and then Andrews first drew his hatchet at him, but it struck the door, and then Andrews drew his hatchet again, but hit nobody.

This evidence of Mrs. Williamson disproves the theory of conspiracy between her and Andrews to kill her husband, and also establishes a pretty strong case of murder in the first degree against Andrews. She says that she first met Andrews at Topeka, Kan., about eighteen months ago, or a short time after her marriage to Williamson. She and her husband came to St. Louis last July and Andrews a week or two later. None of them have any relatives in St. Louis. Andrews has a sister in St. Paul, and her relatives and those of her husband all live in Jefferson County, Kan. The parents of all three are dead.

Charged for Their Wagon Ride.

A. J. Robinson and William L. Linton, two lanky blackwoodsmen, very much frightened, were brought in from Oregon County to-day by Deputy Marshal Marshall A. McCune. The two men were witnesses in a case before the United States District Court about six months ago, and turned in bills for mileage on the railroad, which were paid. The court officials afterwards found that the two men had ridden across the State in a little or nothing and had really not paid the railway fare with which they had charged the Government. Deputy McCune was sent out and arrested the two men.

Lindenwood at Auction, Saturday, May 14, 1892.

TEN THOUSAND FEET IN LOTS AND BLOCKS.

AT 2:30 O'CLOCK P. M.

It is on the "Frisco Railway," which furnishes ample transportation facilities. Lindenwood has the finest railroad depot within 100 miles of St. Louis. It has a spring of pure cold water, which discharges 72,000 gallons of water a day. It has a perfect system of waterworks, which introduces this beautiful water into the grounds and houses of its residents. The waters of this magnificent spring are fast becoming famous for their health-restoring qualities. Lindenwood has streets constructed of macadam and gravel; some streets have granite sidewalks; a lovely natural park. Its residents are prosperous and happy, and last, but not least, LINDENWOOD HAS A FUTURE of which the development and enhancement of values of the past year and a half were only a beginning. There are restrictions which insure the exclusion of anything objectionable. The sale offers a great opportunity to secure home site or an investment in one of the best.

Lindenwood is the cream of suburban residence property. It is located on the highest point in the city limit, and consequently has a view of the city from the north, and as long as the sun is in the sky the view of the city and the surrounding country is a beautiful sight. From the window of its neat and comfortable homes Shrawbury, Benton, Clifton Heights, Eldorado and Old Orchard are overlooked.

Terms the most liberal ever made, and will be published later.

Weather forecast for thirty-six hours, beginning at 8 a. m. to-day, for Missouri:

Clearing and colder to-night; southerly winds; warmer Wednesday.

A trough of moderately low pressure has remained nearly stationary for the past twenty-four hours, extending from Lake Michigan to Northern Texas with another slight depression in Utah. Rain has been quite general from Colorado east to the Alleghenies, and north of Texas and the Ohio River, the heaviest being in portions of Missouri and Illinois, where from half an inch to two inches have fallen. Rains still continue in Nebraska, Kansas and portions of Missouri and Arkansas, with light showers in South Dakota, indicating that clearing conditions will probably be delayed twenty-four hours longer. The temperature conditions remain practically unchanged.

Clearing skies and slightly higher temperatures are reported from Montana.

Weather forecast for thirty-six hours, beginning at 8 a. m. to-day, for St. Louis: Showers to-day and Wednesday; nearly stationary temperature to-night, probably cooler Wednesday.

THE result of the local Democratic primaries should be determined by the honest votes alone.

The rascality of the Raun pension administration is monumental enough to become a presidential issue.

THE Democracy is willing to concede that WATKINSON means well, but is likely to conclude that he don't know.

NOW that the free wool and free binding-twine bills have passed the House, free coal should be considered. The Reading combine cannot be suppressed, but it can be undermined.

EX-SPEAKER REED is about the worst

Republican in public life, which is equivalent to saying that he is the best representative of its dominant elements. He has a good claim upon the presidential nomination.

TWO WOMEN are candidates for the Minneapolis Convention in Wyoming, one of whom will probably be chosen. It is a pity that in her first appearance in national politics woman should choose the wrong side.

THERE is still no sign that the stench of the corruption puddle which has spread all over the country has reached the White House. But perhaps the "odor of sanctity" around Elder HARRISON is strong enough to overcome it.

THE SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH accepts advertising on a distinct and unequivocal guarantee that its circulation in the City of St. Louis and suburbs is more than double that of the "Republic" and larger than any other Sunday newspaper.

THE latest yarn is that CLEVELAND will withdraw at the last moment in favor of Chief Justice FULLER. This will make the people gay for a week. Then we shall hear of President HARRISON's retirement in favor of ex-Senator BLAIR.

Boss FILLIE is consuming much time and space trying to demonstrate that he got what he wanted from the Jefferson City convention. It ought not to require so much effort on the part of a man who is satisfied to prove his satisfaction.

DEEMING may be by nature a moral monstrosity, but he is cunning and man-sly for a purpose and there can be no doubt that the Melbourne jury acted wisely in disposing of him so that his possible misfortune will not be visited upon helpless women and children.

THE Chicago police are doing their best to provoke another Anarchistic outbreak like the Haymarket riot. They are breaking up alleged Anarchistic meetings and arresting suspected Anarchists without warrant of law. Sunday several men were arrested for carrying red flags through the streets. The officious persecution of citizens in the name of law enforcement is the cause of riots and gives Anarchist demagogues the excuse for inciting their followers to violence.

SHOWN BY FACTS AND FIGURES.

The last SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH was a 40-page paper. The Republic of the same date was only a 32-page paper. The SUND-AY POST-DISPATCH contained 180 columns of reading matter; the Republic contained 115 and the Globe-Democrat 107.

The SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH published 73 columns more reading matter than the Globe-Democrat and 66 columns more than the Republic. The total number of "small

The SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH, to the reader, the largest paper published in St.

Louis. Its contents cost more than the contents of both the Globe-Democrat and the Republic, its illustrations were far superior to those of its competitors and its circulation was the largest in the history of the paper excepting the closing days of "the teachers' contest."

JUSTICE BEFORE GENEROSITY.

In his SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH interview the Rev. Dr. MADDEN, reasserting his opinion that the rich are growing richer and the poor poorer, offers as the only remedy for these vicious conditions the influence of Christianity, which shall make the rich generous and the poor grateful.

Surely the good doctor does not realize what he is doing when he pictures as ideal that condition of society in which the poor multitude live in grateful dependence upon the rich few. The condition of dependents and patrons is unbearable to free men and fatal to free institutions.

The industrial and social system which enables a portion of society to fatten at the expense of the remainder, which continually increases the luxury of and elevates some while deepening the misery and debasing others, is radically defective.

The remedy must strike deeper than the mere voluntary relief of the miserable by those whose swelling prosperity causes their misery. A question of rights is involved.

Generosity is a good thing, but justice is a better. If all men could be so imbued with the spirit of Christianity that they would be just to their fellows, would refuse to be actuated by motives of greed and would not use the advantages which may fall into their hands to add to their power and wealth at the expense of others, there would be no ill of the kind Dr. MADDEN depicts. But the millennium is not here and most men lay aside their Christian principles in matters of business and politics. Until the power of the gospel can be laid upon them, the mass of the people must look to the law and the Government for protection from injustice and oppression.

The rich and the strong, however, use their wealth and strength to control courts and Legislatures, and thus secure laws that favor their interests. The first thing to do, therefore, to abolish the conditions which Dr. MADDEN finds so abhorrent is to insist that this favoritism towards the wealthy and powerful shall cease. For example, Baron NIEDRINGHAUSE, the millionaire member of Dr. MADDEN's church, who objected to his remark about the rich and poor for obvious reasons, has been enabled to add enormously to his wealth and is now adding to it through laws which tax all the people to increase his profits. There are many such laws which oppress the poor and weak, making them poorer and weaker, but benefiting the rich and strong.

All men who see the evils of our present conditions should apply themselves diligently and boldly to correcting them by insisting upon justice and equal rights for all men. Not only will social conditions be improved by securing this end, but a far better opportunity will be afforded for the accomplishment of the perfect work of Christianity.

A Plague Spot.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

In the issue of all who live on Austin, between Fifteenth and Seventeenth streets, I ask the POST-DISPATCH to help us prod the city officials who pay no attention to the complaints we have laid before them of leak-Jerry's Latest Scheme.

From the Richmond (Va.) Clarion.

An exchange says that that Jerry Simpson, the "rascally statesman" of Kansas, is rumored, will petition Congress for a $100,- 000 appropriation for the purpose of experimenting in crossing honey bees with lightning bugs, under the impression that should he succeed the bees will be able to work nights.

MAY DAY passed in Europe without serious disturbances, much to the disappointment, doubtless, of those who would be glad to have the movement in behalf of the rights of labor associated with anarchism and other forms of violent revolution against social order. Anarchism is one phase of social discontent and represents a protest against real wrongs, but it is an indefensible form of protest and does not have the sympathy of the substantial workingmen who, although the victims of injustice, are not seeking to obtain their rights by overturning law and order, but through a legitimate reform of the social and industrial system.

THE experience of other cities given in the last SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH show conclusively that the St. Louis School Board is behind the times. The teachers in the public schools certainly earn their salaries and should be paid them promptly and without any unnecessary delay. The eight pay-day system is antiquated and works injustice. It ought to be abolished and some plan substituted which would enable the teachers to keep even with the world. It may be necessary to employ an other clerk, but that expense is trifling and should not stand in the way of doing an act of justice.

FERDINAND WARD does not deserve much sympathy, but if he has suffered for others' sins in addition to his own the fact ought to be known. The hints that some very respectable names were in danger of smirching by his statement are very suggestive. Respectability which is so rotten that it cannot survive a convict's story does not promote the moral health of the community.

THE M'KEE ESTATE.
Letters of Administration Will Be Taken Out To-Morrow.

MRS. M'KEE'S DAUGHTER, THE SOLE HEIR, WILL BE ADMINISTRATRIX.

An Estate Which Will Inventory in the Neighborhood of $2,000,000—A Batch of Opinions Handed Down by the Court of Appeals—Divorce Suits Filed —Civil Court News.

Judge H. A. Clover, representing Miss Ellen J. McKee, called at the Probate Court to-day to make arrangements with Wm. E. Wagner, clerk of the court, relative to taking out letters of administration to-morrow on the estate of Miss McKee's mother, Mrs. Ellen McKee, who died April 15. Mrs. McKee left no will and her daughter, Miss Ellen, who is the only heir, will administer on the estate.

The estate is very large, and consists of a controlling interest in the Globe-Democrat and a large amount of real estate, with some bank stock, and personal property.
The McKee interest in the Globe-Democrat consists of about 800 shares of the capital stock of the par value of $1,000 a share, but estimated to be actually worth four times that amount. The real estate holdings are assessed at $327,220, but the actual value of the property is said to be worth over $500,000.
There is also a separate personal estate of $15,410.

The real estate consists of a row of one front dwelling houses at thirty-first and Pine streets, in one of which Mrs. McKee lived at No. 3228 Pine. The property has a frontage of 173 feet and is assessed at $44,780. There is also a lot at the corner of Sixth and Pine streets, across from the new Globe-Democrat building. The lot fronts 89 1/2 feet on Pine street and is assessed at $2,390.
There is an adjoining lot fronting 25 feet on Sixth street, assessed at $2,000. Another large holding is 280 feet on Morrison avenue in city block 472, assessed at $71,720. It is a row of dwellings.

The rest of the property is located as follows: 87 1/2 feet on Washington avenue in city block 380, assessed at $5,350; 35 feet on Gamble avenue, in city block 977, assessed at $4,500; 50 feet on Washington avenue, in city block 384, assessed at $4,420; 35 feet on Texas avenue, in city block 2187, assessed at $8,220; 50 feet in same block on Ohio avenue, assessed at $3,300; 121 feet on Lafayette avenue, in city block 2188, assessed at $11,570; 34 feet on Olive street, in city block 1115, leased to Jacob and Frank Bittner and assessed at $23,510; 26 feet on Washington avenue in city block 1023 assessed at $6,200, and 21 on Locust street in city block 127, assessed at $14,710.

The foregoing property is all in the old city limits. In the new limits or outside of a line 600 feet west of Grand avenue, Mrs. McKee owns the following properties: 325 feet on Pine street in city block 3915, valued at $15,380; 800 feet on Westminster place, in city block 890 north, valued at $9,180, and 800 feet on the same street in city block 890 south, valued at $17, 720, and 800 feet on McPherson avenue in the same block, valued at $9,120.

Mrs. McKee held 24 shares of stock in the National Bank of Commerce assessed at $1,760, and her other personal property assessed at $11,020.
In addition to the above estate, all of which will pass to Miss McKee, the daughter has a couple of real estate parcels in her own name—145 feet in city block 1757, and 145 feet in city block 8888, both on Hamilton avenue, and valued at $4,750.

As the holdings of the estate in the Globe-Democrat are valued at about $1,800,000 and the real estate about $500,000, it is generally believed that the whole estate will foot up $2,300,000.

Judge Clover was seen by a Post-Dispatch reporter to-day and said: "Miss McKee will be the administratrix of the estate.
Before 12 o'clock to-morrow letters of administration will be applied for. I don't know what the value of the McKee interest has been heard that it is worth $2,000,000, but I don't think it is worth that much."

Judge Clover was asked relative to the statement that was made to-day that one of the Trust companies was to be the security, and replied that that was not settled. That was for the administratrix to decide, he said.

Mr. J. B. McCullagh, editor of the Globe-Democrat, said to-day that Mrs. McKee followed the example of her husband the late William McKee, and left no will, but entrusted the care of the estate to her daughter and only heir.
The proceedings in the Probate Court, he said, were the necessary legal formalities to transfer the title from mother to daughter.
Mr. McCullagh stated that there would be no change in the relation of the McKee interest in the Globe-Democrat toward the newspaper.
He said that Miss McKee, as administratrix, would be the representative of the estate in the affairs of the paper.

Court Notes.
Gottlieb Graf has an attachment suit today against William J. Conzelmann for $35.
Judge Fisher yesterday granted the Academy of the Christian Brothers leave to amend its charter, changing the name to the Christian Brothers College of St. Louis, and providing that the association may acquire and hold property.

Fight Between Women.
Mr. Keating of the First District Police Court issued a summons this afternoon for the arrest of Mrs. August Vogt of 1810 South Second street for assaulting Mrs. Rose Hart of the same number. The two women had a fight yesterday and Mrs. Hart was pretty badly bruised up.
She says that Mrs. Vogt threw her down stairs and then jumped on her and beat her and all because Mrs. Hart's little boy was taking a bucket of coal from the cellar.
The women disagree as to the ownership of the coal.

WISCONSIN DEMOCRATS.
MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 2.—Democrats from all parts of the state have been pouring into the city since yesterday to attend the state convention, which will be held to-morrow to elect delegates to the National Convention at Chicago and nominate the state electoral ticket. The new "East Hotel" is the rallying point of the knights of Democracy, as the State Central Committee and most of the congressional delegations have their headquarters there.

Unlike the Republicans, the Democrats have elected none of their district delegates to the National Convention, and as the district delegations will have to work to do, they will naturally get together early to discuss candidates before the convention opens.

Another thing which has been bringing the delegates in to-day is the meeting of the convention. The meeting is to be secret. It is safe to say, however, that the electoral ticket will be named at night.
Grover Cleveland will also be drafted.

The candidates who have headquarters at the Leland Hotel are the following: Gov. Fifer, Judge Joel M. Longenecker of Chicago, Judge Horace S. Clark of Mattoon and Attorney-General Geo. Hunt, candidates for Governor; Gen. C. W. Pavey and H. Sta-sen of Joliet, candidates for Auditor; Coroner Henry L. Hertz of Chicago and Senator M. M.
Bassett of Peoria, candidates for Treasurer; Hon. Geo. Prince of Galesburg, candidate for Attorney-General; Secretary of State Pearson, candidate for re-election; Lieut.
Gov. Ray and J. N. Carter of Quincy, candidates for Lieutenant-Governor; Richard Yates of Jacksonville, Geo. S. Willets of Chicago and Gen. John L. Rinkner of Carlinville, candidates for Congressman at large.

The Fifer men say there will be but one ballot, which will probably be taken on Thursday, the preliminary work of the convention occupying all of Wednesday, and that the Governor will have a majority over all his competitors.

The convention will be composed of 1,285 delegates and will be held in the Hall of Representatives at the State Capitol.
It will be the largest convention in the history of the party in this state. Although it does not attract the general attention which the recent Democratic convention drew to it, the gathering is still of large importance, being a presidential year and much depending on the completion of the state ticket in carrying the national ticket to success.

The slate which finds most favor to-day is as follows:
Governor—Jos. W. Fifer.
Lieutenant-Governor—Lyman B. Ray.
Secretary of State—J. N. Pearson.
Auditor of Public Accounts—C. W. Pavey.
Attorney-General—George W. Prince of Galesburg.

State Treasurer—Henry L. Hertz of Chicago.
Congressman-at-Large—George S. Willets of Chicago and Richard Yates of Jacksonville.

The delegation to Minneapolis will be for Harrison. Custom being now out of the race, the state has no favorite son.

It is given out to-day that Congressman A. J. Hopkins will be made Chairman of the temporary organization, and Dr. Robbins of Quincy permanent presiding officer.
This afternoon there are many rumors of combinations, though none of them are traceable to a source of authority to speak on such deals.

Most of the proposed combinations are aimed at the peace of mind of Hertz and Fifer and the integrity of their bosses. But these are not the only perturbed candidates.
Candidate for Auditor C. W. Pavey, and Candidate for Secretary of State L. L. Pearson, are wearing anxious looks over the avowed intention of the dominant element here to place a German on the ticket.
The man selected is H. H. Stassen, and the office assigned to him is either the Secretaryship or the Auditorship.

Stassen has become an important factor in the convention owing to the present situation and the evident desire of many of the party managers to have a German on the ticket. Stassen's nomination was first suggested by one of the Cook County delegates, and now his boom has returned to plague its inventors.

The latest scheme proposed to-day was to run Stassen for State Treasurer against Hertz. This phase of the situation has complicated matters, and it is probable that to-morrow's gathering may not be the cut and dried affair that was anticipated, and the slate as given above may be changed in several essentials.

Confined in the Good Shepherd Asylum.
Mrs. Theresa Wolkwitz created a scene at the entrance of the convent of the Good Shepherd yesterday morning. She was being forced into that institution by friends, who say that it is better for her to be confined than to remain an inmate of an immoral resort, which she has been off and on for some time.

Three weeks ago friends of the woman obtained her release from the convent in hopes that she would do better. Their hopes, however, were vain, for she immediately entered a resort on Chestnut street. Her friends again sought her out and, resorting to strategy, conveyed her, it is alleged, under the influence of liquor, to the convent.

Mrs. Wolkwitz' maiden name was Mammie Gavin. Her brother is now in jail charged with murder.

A drunken hoodlum called at the home of Frank White, corner of Eighth and Middle streets last night at 10:30, and requested the loan of a dime with which to purchase beer. Being refused he hurled a brick through a window, landing it at the feet of Mrs. White, and just under a little while after he held all that was mortal of her darling babe. The police were notified, but the villain made good his escape.

BLUEBEARD'S BOOK.

Murderer Deeming Writing a History of His Crimes.

CLOSELY GUARDED TO PREVENT HIS CHEATING THE HANGMAN.

He is Resigned to His Fate and Has No Hope of Clemency—Train Wreckers Fail of Their Purpose—Escaped From Jail With a Death Sentence Pending—Crimes.

MELBOURNE, May 8.—After Deeming was conveyed last night from the court-room in which sentence of death had just been passed upon him and returned to the jail his clothing was taken from him and he was compelled to don the attire worn by convicts in the prison. He was then placed in the condemned cell and heavy irons were locked upon his wrists to prevent him from committing suicide. There is scarcely a doubt that he would kill himself if the opportunity offered, and a close watch will be kept upon him in order that he does not cheat the gallows. He did not appear to be at all cast down by his fate, and after a short conversation with the warden's detail to watch him he threw himself upon the pallet in his cell and slept calmly until this morning.

Much interest is manifested in the biography that Deeming is writing, and upon which he has spent much of his time since he was imprisoned. It is said that the man's overbearing vanity will impel him to confess in this work all the crimes he has ever committed. By appealing to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council Deeming may succeed in putting off his execution for a time, but his haste to complete his book shows that he has little, if any, hope of escaping hanging. Early this morning he resumed his writing of his biography, which he says he will bequeath to Rousell, the young lady to whom he was engaged at the time of his arrest. He expresses the hope that the profits which he may derive from its publication will in some degree compensate her for the wrong and annoyance which he has been the means of inflicting upon her.

There is a strange mixture of sense and insanity in all he says and does, the latter evidently assumed. He expects to procure at first a postponement of his trial, and next a division of the jury on the plea of mental aberration put forward for him, and in delay he had even hope of making his escape.

TRAIN WRECKERS FAIL.

PARTIALLY SUCCESSFUL ATTEMPT TO DITCH A PASSENGER TRAIN.

HOLLY SPRINGS, Miss., May 3.—A dastardly attempt was made to wreck passenger train No. 4, known as the Chicago limited, on the Illinois Central two miles north of here Sunday night. Piles of ties and rails were placed across the tracks just the other side of a curve, where there is a steep embankment. The engine was fortunately seen by the conductor in time to avoid a terrible catastrophe, but not soon enough to stay the damage to the engine and severe shaking up of the passengers. While the obstruction was being cleared away a heavy freight train ran into the rear of the passenger, demolishing the sleeper and setting it on fire. It was totally consumed. The Pullman conductor was seriously injured, as was also the engineer of the passenger train.

CLEVELAND, O., May 3.—Ralph K. Paige, cashier of the wrecked Fairview Bank, who has been in jail about six weeks on the charge of forgery, came into court yesterday and entered a plea of guilty. It was thought Paige would make a statement exonerating his aged father-in-law, Horace Steele, the president of the bank, who is also under indictment for forgery, but he did not do so.

NEGRO POSTS.

White G. A. R. Men in Rebellion Against Them at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 3.—Ever since Past Department Commander Jacob Gray of the G. A. R., some two years ago, chartered a number of negro posts, there has been a continual wrangle, the white post declining to accord any recognition to the negro posts. A decision was had from the Commander-in-Chief, recognizing these negro posts, but Deputy Commander Frederick Speed refused to recognize them in any way. He was warned that serious consequences might ensue, but his course he decided to stick to. A lengthy petition was prepared and forwarded to the National Council, Gen. John Palmer of New York. The colored posts also got up a petition, which it appears had more effect. Suspension of the Department Commander for disobedience of orders. Col. Jas. Lewis, who led the fight for the negro posts, stated this morning that they were certain to win, and that the white posts would not dissolve, as had been alleged, as sufficient members would remain to preserve their organization. They would make a statement exonerating Miller, who is said to be as firmly opposed to the negro as the two deposed officers.

The case was laid before United States District Judge Ritter, and he will doubtless grant the injunction.

Good Crop Prospects.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., May 3.—Reports from a large number of places in the wheat and barley districts of Northern and Central California show the condition of crops at the present time. In the northern part of the state, particularly in the Sacramento Valley and northern portion of the San Joaquin Valley, the late rains have been very beneficial to growing grain, and reports from nearly all places in those districts indicate that the prospect for an abundant yield is excellent. In localities south of these districts the growth has been retarded by lack of rain and a light crop is generally expected.

"QUICK MEAL"

GASOLINE
STOVES.

The marvelous success of "Quick Meal" Gasoline Stoves is caused by its absolute safety against accidents. The reason of such security is that the burners can not be opened farther than necessary, the tank can not be taken off for filling unless all the burners are shut, an indicator shows when the burners are open or closed, and a glass tube shows the dripping of gasoline. "Quick Meal" Gasoline Stoves are durable, simple and economical. These wonderful stoves must be seen to be appreciated.

THE WYOMING WAR.
Present Status of the Fight Between Ranchers and Rustlers.
This morning Elbert E. Hunter of Laramie, Wyo., arrived in the city, stopping at the Laclede. Mr. Hunter said: "I have just come from the country south of the Wind River Mountains, where the cattle war has been raging. The people outside of the range country do not understand the situation that prevails. Both sides have been presented, but although I have carefully read the papers, I have not been able to find an impartial statement of the case. The facts are these: For several years the small ranchers, some raising cattle and some engaged in agriculture, have been pushing north into the region hitherto given up to the large grazers. Against the farmers nothing is to be said, but they are regarded by the range men as their most dangerous enemies. They take up and fence claims along the water, rendering the back country useless, as it cannot be converted into agricultural land, and is without value for grazing purposes if access to the streams is cut off. But no fight was made against these men, as it would have raised the whole State against the large ranch owners. These small farmers constitute about half of the population of the disturbed district. The other half are nothing but cattle and horse thieves. They buy a few head of cattle, call a round-up ahead of the regular time and brand every big calf they can find. According to their brand their stock must be as prolific as rabbits. It was against these men that the vigilance committee, for it was nothing else, was directed. But at the same time the small farmers were annoyed, and they, recognizing the fact that the large ranchers were their natural enemies, made common cause and defeated the raid. If the United States troops had not come in not a man of the Vigilance Committee would have been left alive. The failure of the expedition is something very like a death-blow to the cattle industry of Northern Wyoming. The cattle thieves have the advantage and will do very much what they please. Stock owners on a large scale will have to seek new fields." Mr. Hunter leaves for Washington this evening.

Accusations Against an Officer.

John Banks, living at Rock Springs, shipped to the First District Police Court in a badly bruised and dilapidated condition to present a physician's certificate that he was physically unable at present to stand trial for disturbing the peace and resisting an officer, charges preferred against him by Officer Butler of the Fifth District. Banks says that Sunday morning his wife found their son in a saloon drinking with Officer Butler. Young Banks, he alleges, was slightly intoxicated, and when his mother told him to go home, Butler, Banks says, insulted her. His wife returned home and told him about it. Banks alleges, Banks then went to the saloon and, he says, found his son still drinking with the officer. Banks demanded an apology, and when he insisted on satisfaction the officer hit him with his club, breaking his jaw, he says. Banks says that he was then arrested and charged with disturbing the peace and resisting arrest preferred against him. The cases against Banks were continued until Friday.

"LIQUID BREAD."

The demand of enlightened people is always for the purest and best of everything needed in their domestic economy. This is especially the case so far as articles of dietetic and medicinal use are concerned. Unfortunately, however, the general eagerness to make the most money has stimulated scientists and inventors to the utmost toward the production of spurious articles, at a low cost, in imitation of the genuine and a fraud on the public. So great has been their success that it is now a fact that a very large percentage of the goods offered for sale have but little, in some cases none whatever, of the properties of the real article.

This is not only true of articles of luxury and medicine, but, as a rule, of the daily necessities of life. It is notorious that the physician's skill is often thwarted by reason of the spuriousness of the medicines furnished upon his prescription, and it is equally true that convalescence is often retarded in consequence of the adulteration of the food provided. It has been our aim, throughout an active and unintermitted business existence of almost fifty years, to stand in a relationship of absolute good faith toward mankind and to place before and supply to the public only goods of true merit and intrinsic worth, and the people have always willingly supported us. Eight years ago we placed upon the market our own
